No. 28.

TELEGRAPHIC.

OTTAWA, May 3.

Judge Henry, of the supreme court, died last night of exhaustion caused by brain pressure.

The minister of justice gives notice to-night of a bill to amend the Territorial representation act.

Mr. Davin gives notice of an amendment to the new Territorial assembly bill by providing for the creation of an executive council of three, under such designation as the lieutenant-governor thinks fit.

The new libel bill which has been introduced by the minister of justice is a brief one, but is welcome. By it every newspaper proprietor, publisher, editor or other person charged with the publication in a newspaper of any defamatory libel must be dealt with, indicted, tried and punished in the province in which such person resides or in which such paper is printed.

OTTAWA, May 4.

In the house to-day Sir John said Mrs. Gowanlock would probably be provided for to the same extent as Mrs. Delaney.

Mr. Davin urged the government to grant scrip to Regina volunteers, scouts of Moose Jaw and other places and teamsters who took part in the rebellion. Caron replied. He said with the new arguments Mr. Davin had presented he would reconsider the claims of Regina volunteers and hoped to be able to meet them. With regard to the others he was bound by act of parliament, but if it were possible to meet their views he would do so. Mr. Sproule seconded Mr. Davin's remarks.

OTTAWA, May 6.

The Manitoba senators and members had an interview with the privy council yesterday to urge the claims of the Hudson's Bay Ry. company to a subsidy. Sir John gave a somewhat similar answer as that given in regard to other railways that have appeared before the government by deputation this session.

OTTAWA, May 7.

The contest in Russell culminated in a veritable surprise, Edwards being elected by about 250 majority.

Hon. Mr. Thompson introduced a bill to amend the Territories representation act, to make the day of polling, elections and nomination in the Territories similar with the rest of Canada.

Mr. Davin moved that it was desirable that unsettled claims of those who were engaged as scouts, police or volunteers in putting down the rebellion of '84 in the North-West or guarding places liable to attack, while holding themselves in readiness to march to the front, should be reconsidered. McDowall thought there were a number entitled to scrip who did not get it. He especially urged the claims of the Battleford volunteers in this connection. The resolution was adopted.

OTTAWA, May 8.

It is reported to-night that possibly two or three railway subsidies will be granted this session, and of the North-West roads the Regina and Long Lake it is reported has the best chance; the desire of the government being to have a line into Prince Albert as speedily as possible.

The special Mackenzie river committee, over which Senator Schultz presided, has sent an exploration party to that district, and accompanying them a naturalist has been sent by the government to investigate the natural products of that great region both as regards its vegetation and its mineral productions.

In the house this afternoon Sir Charles Tupper moved a resolution giving the government power to borrow $25,000,000. He explained that five millions were needed to meet floating liabilities and six millions to meet amounts due for railway subsidies. He showed that Canada's credit stood third among all the nations of the world, and that we were able to borrow for 3½ per cent. The resolutions were reported and a bill on the same introduced.

The Call's Regina correspondent says there is much surprise and disappointment there because in the proposed conference relating to the new grading of wheat the North-West Territories have been ignored, while the boards of trade of Winnipeg, Toronto, Montreal and Port Arthur have been asked to send delegates to Ottawa on the 16th inst. Representatives from Regina, Indian Head, Prince Albert and Edmonton have not been invited though at nearly all these places there are boards of trade or business associations, and they are centres of splendid agricultural districts. The council of the board of trade here have taken hold of the matter and may hold a special meeting tomorrow, and will probably pass a resolution requesting Mr. Davin to ask Minister Costigan to invite delegates who are grain experts from some of the places mentioned.

OTTAWA, May 9.

Lord Stanley of Preston has been gazetted governor-general of Canada.

The Emperor of Germany passed a fair night and may be able to leave his bed to-day.

In the senate to-day Hon. Mr. Macdonald brought up the subject of the establishment of Indian industrial schools which was discussed at some length. Hon. Mr. Abbott said he appreciated highly the moderate tone in which these questions had been discussed. The government had adopted a system of Indian industrial schools and if found successful the number would be largely increased.

WINNIPEG, May 7.

Lewis, the strangler and champion wrestler of America, defeated Warnope, the Cornish man and champion of England, in three straight bouts in Chicago.

The customs authorities at Montreal to-day made a seizure of goods valued at $75,000, consigned to a company who were about to open store here. The goods were 50 per cent. undervalued.

A sculling match took place to-day between Kemp of Australia and Hanlan. Kemp won by five lengths. The course was over the Paramatta river and was for the championship of the world, which was handed over to Kemp by Beech.

The Emperor of Germany's weakness is inspiring general alarm. He evinces a desire to take food, while the difficulty of his doing so rapidly increases. The official bulletin at 21 o'clock says the Emperor passed a good day. His physicians agree that he has improved.

Joseph Chamberlain at a reception given by his brother, Richard Chamberlain, declared he would never again ally himself with his former colleagues. He spoke of the organization of a new party to be called the unionist or nationalist party. The Tory party he declared was dead, therefore radicals need not and would not scruple to join the new party, particularly as the Gladstonians had become Parnellites pure and simple and had not advocated a single liberal measure. He declared he would be the last man to join such a party as the Gladstonians now were, and earnestly besought the radicals to follow his example in cutting the last ties that bound them to a sinking vessel.

BATTLEFORD, May 9.

Probably the largest funeral ever known in Battleford took place this afternoon when the remains of the late Mr. Fred. Marigold were interred. Deceased has been in Battleford since 1880 and filled many important positions. During the late rebellion he was a lieutenant in the Battleford rifles and took an active part in the fight at Cut Knife for which he received a medal and clasp. In 1866 he was made an ensign in the 22nd battalion and marched to Sandwich, and ever since has been more or less connected with the military forces of Canada. He had been ailing for some time with rheumatism, but was able to attend to his office duties up to Saturday evening last. On Sunday he went to his meals as usual and in the afternoon took some new medicine. Shortly after taking it it was noticed that he showed signs of drowsiness with a nervous twitching of the hands which gradually grew worse until his death at 7:55 p. m. on Monday. An inquest was held yesterday and the jury demanded a postmortem which was granted and the stomach sent to McGill university Montreal, to be analyzed. Dr. Ayles says that the symptoms were such as would be caused by arsenical poison. He was buried with military honors; a company of the Battleford rifles formed a firing party. Mr. Marigold was a universal favorite here and his loss is keenly felt.

QU'APPELLE, May 11.

Red Deer electoral district is that portion of Alberta between the seventh and twelfth correction lines; one member. Edmonton from the twelfth correction line to the northern boundary of Alberta; two members, elected by the whole district.

WHEAT and oat seeding is now almost over, the season having been most favorable for both work and growth. Barley may be sown safely up to the 10th of June. The crop average is being increased slightly over last year.

H. S. YOUNG of the H. B. Co. and, P. Tate, late of the Indian department, left for the Landing on Friday.

R. AND D. MCRAE arrived from the Landing on Thursday, with J. R. Burton, who took Chas. Stewart out.

A LARGE party who went out shooting on Saturday last to the lakes on the Athabasca trail, had poor luck.

THOS. ANDERSON, crown timber agent, has had radishes fit for table use for some time, and Insp. Casey fresh onions.

COURT of revision for the East Edmonton school district sits in the school house on May 19th from 9 a. m. till 5 p. m.

REV. W. A. VROOMAN of Red Deer arrived last night and will preach in the Methodist church here to-morrow, morning and evening.

NEW telephone poles to accommodate five wires have been put up this week. The system is to be extended to Dr. Tosfield's and Fraser & Co.'s mill.

P. PRUDEN who is to take an outfit of goods down the Athabasca this spring had not arrived at the Landing from Lac la Biche at last accounts.

STAGE arrived on time Monday evening; four passengers: H. S. Young and George Hyslop and wife of the H. B. Co., and Mr. Cooper, a Winnipeg barrister, to attend the sittings of the court next week.

JUDGE ROULEAU arrived on Friday morning and held chambers in the afternoon. The following cases have been set down for trial at the court which opens on Monday: Freehold Loan Co. vs. McLeod, Fitzpatrick vs. Taber, Moret vs. Taber, Wolfe vs. Henderson, Vizina vs. Lafferty & Smith, and Secord vs. McCauley. The judge held chambers again to-day. The criminal cases, Queen vs. John Sunday and Queen vs. Ischeka, will come up before the civil cases.

THE issue of rations to the destitute of St. Albert settlement by the police which was commenced on March 23rd will cease altogether on Friday next, May 18th. A quantity of ammunition will be given to those who are likely to use it to advantage as a final send off. The rations were 5 lbs of flour and 1½ lbs of beef to each person per week. The number receiving rations at one time was over 500. The late spring was the cause of the issue being continued longer than was at first intended. A large number were cut off the list as soon as the ducks came. Since then rations have been issued only to those who were putting in crops. As a result of the assistance given a larger amount of seed than usual has been sown, and it has been put in in better shape. The matter has been in the hands of Supt. Griesbach and Insp. Casey, the latter attending to it personally, and has been administered impartially and economically. The total cost will probably not reach $2,000.

CHAS. STEWART, of Stewart & Bannerman, was ready to leave the Landing on Tuesday 8th inst., with his trading outfit. His was the first boat to go down the river.

THE water is higher in the Athabasca this spring than was ever known at this time of year. The streams between Edmonton and the Landing are also high, and the road is bad.

THE new North-West electoral district of Edmonton includes the whole of Alberta north of township 46; the 12th correction line which divides it from the Red Deer crossing the Calgary trail just south of Peace Hills farm. It includes the settlements of Edmonton, St. Albert, Lac Ste. Anne, Ft. Saskatchewan, Victoria, Beaver lake, Saddle lake, Whitefish lake, Lac la Biche and Athabasca Landing, which at the federal election in March, '87, cast a total of 671 votes, so that each of the two members will represent 335 votes. Red Deer electoral district extends from the Edmonton district south to township 26; the 7th correction line which divides it from the Calgary district crossing the Bow river trail just south of the Sharp Hill. This district takes in Battle river agency, Battle river settlement, Wolf creek and Red Deer settlement, which at the federal election of March, '88, cast a total of 144 votes. The Toronto Mail speaks of the election as certain to come off before the end of June.

FRANK OLIVER, proprietor.

EDMONTON BULLETIN, MAY. 12, 1888.

Ex-speaker Kirkpatrick, Minister of Marine Foster, and Lieut.-Governor Dewdney are each mentioned as likely to be made minister of interior.

A new railroad direct from Duluth to Winnipeg is projected. It would be one hundred miles shorter than the one from Winnipeg to Port Arthur.

The Northern Pacific has arranged a traffic contract with the Red River Valley road which gives it the right to run its trains over the Red River road into Winnipeg. Vice-president Onkes has also ordered fifty more locomotives and one thousand freight cars.

In speaking of the new North-West bill the premier said that an executive would not be granted and that the new bill was in that particular the exact copy of the one under which the territorial government was first organized by the Mackenzie administration.

The MacLeod Gazette and Lethbridge News have been at daggers drawn for some time past over the route of the proposed railway of the Alberta Railway and Coal company. The bill having been thrown out by the railway committee of parliament they may rest in peace once more.

The Pope has issued a decree condemning boycotting and the plan of campaign pursued in Ireland. Lane, M. P., declares the reasons adduced by the Pope for the decree are untenable. Messrs. Lexton and Dillon declined to give an opinion. The decree is declared to be the result of an intrigue between the British government and the Vatican.

According to a return laid on the table of the house, the actual cost of the North-West rebellion to the country was $5,897,256.66. Of this sum $4,671,324 was spent by the militia department, $604,957 by the interior department, $516,000 by the mounted police commissioners, and $34,975 by the department of Indian affairs. The expenditures by the interior department were in connection with claims for losses. A commission enquired into these claims at an expense of $49,475 and awarded the claimants $215,461. The amount spent by the Indian department was to replace articles destroyed by the Indians during the troubles.

Ottawa Journal: "The budget is none too rosy. The salient facts are: That last year's surplus of $100,000 was only obtained by about $400,000 worth of fore-stalments of customs duties caused by approaching changes in the tariff. That the present year's revenue is liable to be a million less than the expenditure. That next year we shall do well if revenue and expenditure balance. To offset this rather dull picture of the finances of a young and naturally rich country, Sir Charles Tupper was only able to rehearse the old story of expenditures for national development. He also quoted a number of figures showing substantial national progress during the last ten years, but we have heard these before. There was very little to indicate notable progress in the last ten years."

The Calgary Tribune regrets that the charter asked by the Alberta railway and coal company has not been allowed to pass at Ottawa. This charter was asked for by responsible men of whose will and ability to construct the proposed line there was no doubt. Its construction would have relieved Alberta from monopoly as Manitoba is being relieved by the Red River Valley railway; it would have developed the agricultural resources of the southern part of the district, would have given its coal deposits their needed outlet and would have soon led to railway extension in Northern Alberta as well. Because the company really meant business was probably the reason the charter was refused; repeating in the North-West, even after all monopoly rights have been purchased, the policy of disallowance that so nearly produced rebellion in Manitoba. The exertions of the Manitoba people in their own behalf secured the abandonment of disallowance in regard to that province and the purchase of monopoly in the North-West as well. But if the people of the North-West fancied that they, without exertion, were going to reap the full benefit of what the Manitoba people secured after such hard struggles the killing of this charter must open their eyes to the contrary, and make them understand that if they want the monopoly policy abandoned in the Territories they will have to take such measures as will cause its abandonment. What those measures are the example of Manitoba clearly shows.

HONEST JOHN NORQUAY.

The question of Hon. Mr. Norquay's honesty in his attempts to raise the money for the construction of the Red River Valley railway has been finally settled—adversely to him. In a late debate in the legislature on the raising of a loan of a million and a half to pay off the floating liabilities of the province and complete the railway, Provincial Treasurer Jones explained that a charge of $45,000 by Mr. Drummond of Montreal for selling certain provincial bonds arose, as appeared, from the official correspondence available, as follows: On June 16th last Mr. Norquay and colleagues received a telegram from Mr. Drummond stating that he had received confirmation of his offer of 24 per cent. premium on the bonds of the province and requesting an immediate reply. On June 18th another telegram was received asking that an acceptance of the offer be cabled at once to Morton, Rose & Co. of London. No such acceptance was sent, for on the 22nd Drummond again telegraphed: "I have cable to-day from London; you have not officially accepted." The next communication was to the effect that so much time having elapsed and the Canadian government having used its influence against the loan to such an extent, Morton, Rose & Co. deemed it in their interests to withdraw their offer. On the 20th of July Hon. Mr. Lariviere wrote that the Manitoba government had not offered the bonds since and "We have all the money we require for the time being." Mr. Norquay offered no explanation, regarding this circumstance and therefore it must be taken for granted that as appears from the correspondence, he practically refused the offer made him of the funds without which the construction of the railway was impossible—that at the very time he was proclaiming most loudly and most strongly his loyalty to the interests of Manitoba he was taking means to render impossible the completion of its most necessary enterprise and to utterly ruin its credit besides, at the same time rendering it liable for $45,000 in cold cash for which it was not receiving a cent's worth of benefit. Those who have wondered at the suddenness with which his former following have deserted him need wonder no longer, supposing that following to be composed of sensible men. That Mr. Norquay is personally honest there is little doubt; that he made a cent in clear cash out of his connection with the government of Manitoba is not likely; but that is poor satisfaction to the people of the province whose revenues have been squandered, whose debt has been rolled up, whose credit has been degraded to the lowest possible point and whose progress has been barred for a whole year at least by the course that he has pursued. Of the loan of a million and a half lately authorized by the legislature of the province, a million and a quarter was admitted by Norquay to be necessary to finish the R. R. V. road and meet other liabilities already incurred. Supposing the R. R. V. to cost $750,000 there remains half a million dollars of debt incurred for which nothing is to be seen. That is, Mr. Norquay's government while simply squandering a large portion of the yearly revenue of the province has put a debt of $5 per head on each individual of the present population. Had Mr. Norquay demanded the payment of that amount of money from each one and offered no equivalent he would have been denounced as a robber, and yet each resident of the province has to pay his share of the amount, for which he has received no value, just as surely as if it had been demanded directly. The question naturally arises, How is it that the people of Manitoba, more than ordinarily intelligent, of more than ordinary business capacity, allowed themselves to be robbed to such an extent when the remedy was in their own hands? It was because they underrated the importance to them of good provincial government. They looked upon the local government merely as a lever by which to work upon, or in connection with, the federal government. They have now found that good provincial government is as necessary in its place as good municipal or national government, and consequently have no more use for weak-backed, double-faced politicians like Honest John. They paid dearly for their experience, but if they have learned well the lesson taught, it will turn out not such a bad investment.

STARVED.

Two trappers named respectively Jack or "Buck" Chatman and George McMillan passed through Edmonton on the 22nd of September last to the Pembina to winter. This spring on May 5th McMillan arrived at the Athabasca Landing in a canoe, alone, almost starving. He said that on reaching the Pembina river by the old Ft. Assiniboine trail they turned down stream some distance and cached half their provisions at Edmonton & Mitchell's last winter's camp. They then went on a day's travel further and established another camp, intending that they should winter at the separate camps. They would set out a line of traps around each camp so as to meet half way and keep up communication with each other while making their rounds. They would thus cover much more ground than would be possible if both camped together. After completing their second camp, on returning to their first cache they found that it had been destroyed by fire. They blamed Indians for stealing the provisions and then starting the fire to conceal the theft. Having heard that the Pembina broke up early in the season they thought they might venture to attempt passing the winter on the remaining half of their provisions. They had fair success in hunting and killed 30 fishers besides other fur. About the 25th of February their provisions ran out and they were compelled to eat the flesh and even the bones and at last the skins of the animals they had trapped. When their provisions ran out McMillan fell sick and when he recovered Chatman fell sick. He got rapidly worse and at last became paralyzed from the middle down, so that he was perfectly helpless. On the 26th of April the ice broke in the Pembina and McMillan shot a partridge, and made soup which Chatman ate with relish. The prospect of getting away in their canoe seemed to enliven the sick man and he laughed at the idea that he was likely to die; but an hour or two after eating he dozed off into sleep and from sleep into death. McMillan chopped a shallow grave in the still frozen ground with his axe and dragging the body to it he covered it as well as possible with brush and poles. The next day he started down the Pembina in his canoe with the ice and reached the Landing on the 5th of May. He was able to support himself on the way down the river by shooting ducks, which had now arrived. At the Landing he made a declaration of the circumstances before W. L. Wood of the H. B. Co., which was forwarded to Edmonton and placed in the hands of the police. In the declaration he says he buried Chatman where the 5th principal meridian crosses the Pembina the second time. Starvation and want of medicine he gives as the cause of his partner's death. Chatman was an American and had a wife from whom he was separated and who lives with her brothers in Oregon. McMillan intends going down to Great Slave lake to hunt as soon as his strength will admit. He brought scarcely any fur to the Landing with him, having eaten nearly all they had caught.

The following is a part of Sir Richard Cartwright's resolution in reply to Sir Chas. Tupper's budget speech: "That the net debt of the Dominion of Canada was $140,362,069 on 30th June, 1878; that the net debt of the said Dominion was $228,235,786 on 31st March, 1888; that the total annual expenditure of the Dominion was $23,503,158 for the year ending 30th June, 1878; that the estimated expenditure for the year ending 30th June, 1887, is $35,421,440, wholly apart from divers known unprovided for expenditures which will raise the total amount likely to be so expended at least to $37,000,000, being an increase of net debt to the amount $88,000,000, and of the total annual expenditures of $13,500,000 in the space of eleven years; that said debt and expenditure have increased in ratio very far in excess of wealth and population of the country during said interval; that said expenditure is provided for by a system of taxation so adjusted as to press with extreme and unjust severity upon thrifty and industrious producers, and especially upon all farmers, day laborers, mechanics, artisans and factory operators who are at present subject to customs taxation on articles necessary to life and comfort amounting to nearly 1,000 per cent. more than levied upon members of corresponding classes in Great Britain and Ireland; that mischiefs caused by the present system are further aggravated by very general substitution of specific for ad valorem duties, whereby the injustice of existing mode of taxation and unfair preference shown to such consumers over less wealthy is at one and the same time increased and concealed, and that it is expedient that said injustice should be remedied, and the wealthy class should be compelled to bear their fair proportionate share of the burden of taxation."

W. F. Maclean of the Toronto World is to contest Cardwell, Ont.—the constituency lately represented by Hon. Thos. White—as an independent conservative.

The federal government is about to ask a loan of $25,000,000.

SUPPLEMENTARY ESTIMATES.

The following North-West items in the supplementary estimates for the current year were omitted from the telegraphic report appearing two weeks ago: "MacLeod custom house $1,000. To complete bridge across Bow river near Calgary $6,500 (instead of $650 as the telegram had it). To provide for the payment to the North-West Coal and Navigation company of expenses incurred by it on account of preliminary steps taken to develop coal deposits within the districts afterwards included in the Blackfeet reserve, under the authority of order in council of 15th October, 1887, $2,481. To provide an additional grant of $30 per head to each of 19 pupils at the McDougall orphanage at Morley, $570. To provide salary for eight months, from 1st November, 1887, to 30th June, 1888, for J. A. Macrae, appointed inspector of Protestant schools in the North-West Territories, under order in council of 22nd December, 1887, $800. To provide a similar payment for Mr. Albert Betourney, appointed inspector of Roman Catholic schools in the North-West Territories, under order in council of 22nd December, 1887, $800. Required to meet the North-West mounted police service for the year $100,000. Further amount to pay for the survey, construction of roads, bridges and other necessary works in connection with the Hot Springs reservation near Banff station, North-West Territories $8,782. Further amount required to provide for the clothing and maintenance of patients from the North-West Territories in the Manitoba asylum for the insane $4,000. Further amount required to provide for the expenses in connection with the commission for the settlement of the half-breed claims in the North-West Territories $5,000. Further amount required to purchase and supply seed grain, as a loan, to remote sections of the North-West Territories $3,000. Further amount required to meet expenses in connection with the suppression of the outbreak (revote of lapsed balance) $95,000. Amount required for compensation to Alexander Hemla and Julia Cardinal, for services rendered during the outbreak, $250 each, $500. To J. W. McKeen, for loss of time and health by reason of his being made a prisoner during the North-West outbreak $100.

A telegram to the Calgary Tribune dated May 2nd says: "Further details of the North-West government bill were announced yesterday. The sessional compensation to members will be $500, and to legal experts $250, with travelling expenses in each case. The sessional allowance is to be subject to a reduction for absence. The speaker is to be elected by the assembly and to receive a salary of $500. The clerk of the legislative assembly will be appointed by the governor in council and will also be secretary to the lieutenant-governor and will receive two thousand dollars per annum. All of these amounts are to be paid from the consolidated revenue funds of the Dominion. The boundaries of the electoral districts are also defined. These districts, each of which returns a member are,—Eleven in Assiniboia, viz:—Moosomin, Wallace, Whitewood, Souris, Wolseley, South Qu'Appelle, North Qu'Appelle, North Regina, South Regina, Moose Jaw and Medicine Hat. Four in Alberta, viz:—MacLeod, Calgary, Red Deer and Edmonton. Four in Saskatchewan, viz:—Battleford, Prince Albert, Batoche and Kinisteno."

As a set off to the motion for unrestricted reciprocity with the States in the commons at Ottawa Marshall moved "That the establishment of mutually favorable trade relations between Great Britain and her colonies, would benefit the agricultural, mining, lumbering and other interests of the latter, and would strengthen the empire by building up its dependencies, and that the government should ask that other colonial governments join in approaching the imperial government with a view to obtaining such an agreement." McCarthy supported. Casey thought the motion premature. Fisher opposed on free trade grounds. Tupper of Pictou favored. Mills asked why no member of the government spoke. McNeill moved the adjournment of the debate.

Free Press May 1: "During this month 3,269 immigrants settled in Manitoba as against 2,765 in the same month of last year, a gain of 504. Thirty-seven immigrants arrived in this province yesterday and 208 Sunday. Of these 34 were Germans, who leave to-day to join the colony at Balgonie. For the week ending Saturday 415 people settled in Manitoba."

In the late Quebec provincial bye elections in Hochelaga, Maskinonge, and Missisquoi, which elected conservatives at the general elections, the two former were carried for Mercier by greater majorities than by his opponents before. Spencer, conservative, was elected in Missisquoi by 114 majority.

The bill to incorporate the Alberta railway and coal companies has been thrown out by the railway committee of the house of commons.

West Selkirk, Manitoba, was flooded by an ice jam on the Red river on April 25th.

VICTORIA.

Jas. Norn arrived on April 29th from Edmonton with a skiff load of flour for the H. B. Co. He started from Edmonton with a wagon but being unable to cross the Sturgeon river, he went to Ft. Saskatchewan and brought part of his load down from there in a skiff.

Plowing commenced on the 23rd inst. Ten wagon loads of potatoes arrived at Saddle lake last week from Onion lake reserve for the White Fish lake and Saddle lake Indians.

The people of this place have commenced putting up a new church three miles above the old one, in the centre of the settlement. The walls are hewed logs 20x30. The lumber was rafted down last fall from Edmonton, and most of the material is on the ground. If all hands would only turn out we would have a new church in a few weeks. Thos. Edmundson, Simon McGillivray, Andrew Whitford and a number of other Victorians started to-day for Egg lake on a hunt. Rev. Mr. McLachlan goes with the party for his health. He is still unable to hold service.

April 30th, '88.

The following letter from W. R. Lloyd, dated Juneau, Alaska, April 18th, '88, was received last mail: "We left Victoria on April 11th, after a fine trip. The weather was good, and the sea calm. The scenery is splendid. We called at three or four salmon canneries. We had about 150 passengers on board; some going to the Yukon, and some to the Yakutat, where the black sand excitement is. Some think it the best place but others don't. The miners here expect good news from the Yukon this season as 150 men stayed in there last fall to explore the Tananah, and some went from Juneau to the head of Copper river, which heads close to the Tananah in the Alaska mountains. It is not far from the head of 40 mile creek to the head of the Tananah river. I saw some fine nuggets from 40 mile creek. I met a man who was in that country eight years ago, and he tells me there is lots of gold on 40 mile creek, but the trouble is that it is frozen ground. He said that the men who say there is no gold in there are men who won't work. They will make a hundred dollars or so and then go gambling and lose it. When fall comes they have to go out broke, and so they give the country a bad name. Over 150 men have gone in this spring from here. They went early and drew their provisions over the lakes and rivers as far as possible in sleighs. Quite a number are going in with us and a larger number next month. I have a fine map of the Yukon country (a sketch of which accompanies the letter). The men who have been in say it is a lovely trip going in, but a tough one coming out. We have met several old acquaintances here. We pull out for Chilkat where our work commences to-morrow morning at 7."

Bishop Clutt of Mackenzie river recently gave evidence before the senate committee on the resources of that country. Gold was found in the Peace and Liard rivers, and he believed that rich mines existed in the northern spurs of the Rocky mountains. A railway to the confluence of the Snoky and Peace rivers or to that of the Clearwater and Athabasca would give steamboat navigation throughout the whole region, with only one break of 20 miles to the Arctic ocean. The country around Lac la Biche and Lesser Slave lake and on the Peace and Liard rivers is suitable for settlement. The large lakes are well stocked with the finest of fish. On the Peace, Liard and Athabasca there is fine spruce 80 to 100 feet high and two to three and a half feet in diameter. Spruce is also abundant on the Mackenzie. On Salt river, a tributary of the Mackenzie, is a mountain of pure salt. The springs deposit large quantities of crystallized salt, and on removing the surface soil near the springs rock salt is found. Sulphur springs are numerous on the Clearwater river, but this mineral is most abundant at the Sulphur point on the south-west corner of Great Slave lake, where the fumes are so strong that people passing have to keep their mouths closed so as not to inhale them. Pitch is found in many places on the Mackenzie, at Slave point on Great Slave lake and near Ft. Good Hope.

Mr. McConnell, D. L. S., who is making a geological and topographical survey of the Liard and Mackenzie rivers for the Canadian government has been heard from at Ft. Rae, on the most northerly arm of Great Slave lake. A report from him was recently read before the senate committee on the Mackenzie country. He reports the existence of tar springs on the southern shore of Great Slave lake, one of which is a natural wonder. This summer McConnell will go down the Mackenzie to the Arctic ocean and will meet Ogilvie there, who will cross over from the Yukon to the Mackenzie by the Peel river portage.

A copy of the National Park Life arrived last mail. It is a four page, four column weekly, and expects to grow up with the country.

J. B. STEELE, Teacher.

Aberdeen, (Scotland) Journal, March 9th: "I am very glad to receive from Mr. J. F. Adamson, a young farmer who has been farming in Canada for the last five years, a copy of a beautifully got up and printed newspaper called the Edmonton BULLETIN, which circulates in Edmonton in Canada. It is very interesting as the production of what appears to be a rising little town with a future before it. The typography is clear and fresh, and the little four page quarto is an exceedingly clever production. Edmonton is a place of about 400 inhabitants about 200 miles north of Calgary on the Canadian Pacific railway. In the neighborhood surrounding the town there is a scattered population of about 2,000. The soil is said to be the richest in Canada, and it has the advantage over Manitoba in respect of being well supplied with wood, water and coal."

The first and third numbers of the Juneau City Mining Record dated April 5th and 19th arrived last mail, sent by W. R. Lloyd. The Record is an eight page paper of BULLETIN size. The paper and printing are simply superb, equal to the finest United States magazines. The first number contains a view of Juneau city, showing it to be a scattered village of about 100 houses in a beautiful situation. The paper is thoroughly newsy and is carefully and well edited, but if it depends on the legitimate patronage of the place and the place does not grow like a mushroom it will not live long. Frank F. Myers is the publisher.

A scientific authority states that natural gas exists in belts of territory. If this is the case Alberta is as well supplied as with coal. A gas well exists on the C. P. R. at Langevin station, west of Medicine Hat, and a natural gas jet exists on the Athabasca north-east of Edmonton, both on the line of Alberta's eastern boundary, and about 450 miles apart.

A copy of the Alaska Free Press dated April 14th arrived last mail, forwarded by W. R. Lloyd. It states that 300 miners worked on the Yukon in '87, taking out $100,000 worth of gold, chiefly from Forty Mile creek, and that 150 remained all winter. Over 150 have outfitted from Juneau this spring for Forty Mile creek.

Montreal Trade Bulletin, April 27: "A few lots of spring rats have come to hand, which have sold at 15c to 17c as to quality, but the majority consisted of unprime skins. Receipts of otter furs have been light and prices have shown no change. Beaver has continued in demand and steady at $3.50 to $4.00.

Hon. Thos. White died of pleuro-pneumonia. He caught cold from attending a dinner at government house, and as his system was run down by overwork he had not strength enough to resist the attack.

It is now estimated that seven out of the twenty-five million inhabitants of the province of Honan, China, were drowned by the bursting of the embankments of the Yellow river last winter.

The body of an Indian named "Bull Shoes," who has been missing since last fall was found recently in a coulee near Lethbridge. He is supposed to have been murdered.

The Ottawa Journal says: "Six million dollars was a good deal to pay for Riel's funeral." If Riel had been the only funeral it would have been less matter.

The Alaska Free Press mentions the arrival of 85 Metlakatla Indians in Juneau to work in the mines.

Kilrain has accepted Sullivan's challenge to the world, and will fight him in six months.
